

REMARKS

The above amendment describes text that was omitted in describing the invention. All information was shown in the drawings, so it is believed no new matter has been presented.

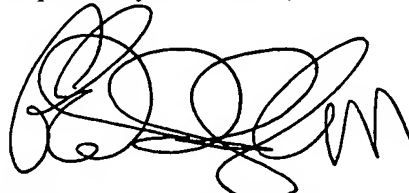

5 However, as patentability did not depend upon the additional text, if Examiner believes the additional text would constitute new matter, Figs. 4 & 5 may be deleted by Examiner's Amendment, and the accompanying changes not entered.

In view of the above, the application is now in condition for allowance.
